Current scope and conditions

Seller-owned first-party rights plus specifically agreed transferable software/delivery artifacts; website displays and third-party ownership rights excluded from standalone software asset value.

• Breathing-session and biofeedback software for a defined wellness or research scope; clinical diagnosis is excluded.

Conditions before handover

• Dependency manifest exists without an identified lockfile; reproducibility should be reviewed.

• A detailed component inventory and licensing report are required for the agreed delivery scope.

The seller offers only the expressly agreed first-party rights it owns or controls, to the extent transferable. Third-party materials retain their own terms. Independent title and freedom-to-operate opinions are not established.

Cost basis

The retained recreation anchor has no explicit per-role work-package budget in the current methodology register. It remains a low-confidence seller estimate requiring reconstruction before reliance.

Coverage describes stated seller estimates only. The retained earlier anchor lacks a complete work breakdown; added scope does not validate it.

Individual source review.

Reviewed 10 November 2026. Current main documentation, source inventory and open candidate status; no fresh execution of private product tests.

Retained source evidence

README documents 236 Node contract/unit tests, headless Chromium at six viewport sizes, signed campaign checks and deterministic measurement bindings, source-reported only.

Remaining limits

No clinical effectiveness, physiological diagnostic accuracy or certified patient safety. Engineering advisory/escalation is not a medical alarm and has no universal clinical threshold.

Development position

No open pull request at the captured source snapshot.
