Current scope and conditions

Seller-owned first-party rights plus specifically agreed transferable software/delivery artifacts; website displays and third-party ownership rights excluded from standalone software asset value.

• Piano-practice and feedback software. Target-device timing, audio behaviour and user acceptance require review.

Conditions before handover

• Dependency manifest exists without an identified lockfile; reproducibility should be reviewed.

• A detailed component inventory and licensing report are required for the agreed delivery scope.

• A security assessment or an explicit statement of its absence is required before acceptance.

• An explicit delivery manifest and handover scope remain to be agreed.

The seller offers only the expressly agreed first-party rights it owns or controls, to the extent transferable. Third-party materials retain their own terms. Independent title and freedom-to-operate opinions are not established.

Cost basis

The retained recreation anchor has no explicit per-role work-package budget in the current methodology register. It remains a low-confidence seller estimate requiring reconstruction before reliance.

Coverage describes stated seller estimates only. The retained earlier anchor lacks a complete work breakdown; added scope does not validate it.

Individual source review.

Reviewed 10 November 2026. Current main documentation, source inventory and open candidate status; no fresh execution of private product tests.

Retained source evidence

README documents deterministic piano practice, note-level scoring, rights-governed public-domain discovery and simulated acoustic/MIDI tests; validation file flags unrun real Audiveris, VST/native MIDI, Demucs and full Playwright.

Remaining limits

Real instrument microphone recognition is expected-note constrained, not general polyphonic transcription; full user-device testing and independent educational efficacy not demonstrated.

Development position

No open pull request at the captured source snapshot.
